HAGENBACK CIRCUS IS WIPED OUT

75 Killed, 200 Injured, When Empty Troop Train Wrecks

SAY ENGINEER SLEPT

Train Running Wild Plows Through Four Coaches

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 22.—At 1:30 this afternoon the Michigan Central death list in the wreck of the Hagenback-Wallace circus train, subject to change, showed 59 dead and 115 injured in the collision.

The fireman of the empty troop train, G. Krause, of Michigan City, is reported to have gone temporarily insane from shock. He is in custody. The engineer, L. Sargent, of Jackson, Mich., is in a hospital at Gary, too badly injured to talk, according to Deputy Coroner Green. Mrs. Charles Gollmar, wife of the manager of the circus, is among the missing. The Meyers family is reported safe.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 22.—The Carl Hagenback and Wallace circus, one of the large old-time touring summer shows, was wrecked and practically all the professional performers, acrobats, clowns, specialty players were either killed or injured early today when the second section or professional division of the circus train, standing on a siding at Ivanhoe, between Gary and Hammond, Ind., was struck by an empty troop train which was rushing toward Chicago.

The troop train, on the Michigan Central, crashed completely through four sleeping cars filled with the show people, standing on the Elgin-Joliet road.

Various estimates place the dead at 75, many of whom will possibly never be identified. Two hundred were injured. Following the crash the wreck burned and the bodies were incinerated.

Engineer Asleep
The engineer of the troop train is said to have been asleep. Both the engineer and fireman of the empty train jumped, and disappeared. There was no fire fighting apparatus at Ivanhoe to extinguish the burning wreck.

One hundred twenty-five persons are in the hospital at Gary and 20 others were taken to the hospital at Hammond. At Gary it was said that 28 of the injured could not survive and at Hammond 6 were beyond hope of recovery. Four died after reaching the Hammond hospital and four died on the relief train going from Ivanhoe to Gary. Manager Gollmar, who was not on the train,

STOP SALE OF DOCTOR BOOKS IN THIS CITY

CHARGES OF FALSE PRETEXTS BY SOLICITORS RESULTS IN THE POLICE ORDER.

A crew of solicitors, working for the Western Distributing Co. of Chicago, were today ordered by the police department to refrain from canvassing for the sale of medical books in the city, in which they have been engaged here this week. The order to stop the canvass here was issued this afternoon when Commissioner A. B. Whitecomb called George H. Sawago of Chicago and his three women solicitors into conference at the city hall.

Numerous complaints that the women had claimed to have been sent out by the government, under which pretext they gained ready admission to homes, and that they had suggested illegal remedies, had been filed with the police and this information resulted in their being summoned to the commissioner's office and his order that they would have to stop the work here.

SHOCK SQUADS WILL FOLLOW STAMP DRIVE

All Who Fail to Call at Polls Monday Will Be Visited by Workers

IT IS NOT A DONATION

Pledge to Take Stamps Is Availing Oneself of a Great Investment

Shock squads of volunteer workers are being organized to bring personal pressure to bear upon every citizen of Dixon who fails to call at his respective polling place between the hours of 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. Monday and pledge himself to purchase a stated amount of War Savings Stamps before December 31, 1918.

However, the Dixon township committee does not believe these shock squads will have much to do, for the patriotism of the people of this community, which showed itself so clearly when the Red Cross quota was voluntarily subscribed, is expected to result in the township quota of $140,000 being subscribed on Monday.

Is Not Donation

Furthermore, the fact that the pledge to purchase War Savings Stamps is not a donation, but is rather a promise to avail oneself of the best investment the government has offered since the beginning of the war is another feature which it is felt will surely bring out the full subscription.

Factory whistles will blow at intervals during the day to remind all that the day is the appointed time, and those who ignore the summons of the whistles may expect to be reminded at intervals during the day by Boy Scouts that Uncle Sam is awaiting their pledge.

$5 stamps can be purchased this month for $4.17, the government giving the purchaser the interest on his investment at the time of purchase, and in 1923 these stamps will be worth $5. The quota of the county represents the face value of the stamps to be purchased, and are not the actual amount of money to be invested. The price of the stamps will advance one cent each month until the end of the year.

TO SEE BOYS OFF

It was suggested today that it would be appropriate for Dixon to give the large contingent of selectmen who leave next Tuesday a rousing send-off, and Sam Bacharach volunteered to take up a subscription and arrange for band music for the event. Mr. Bacharach is taking up this subscription today and is meeting with liberal response. The band will see the boys to the station and play there until they leave. Dixon and Lee County people will be present in great numbers to bid God-speed to the departing soldiers.

Gylleck, for seven years employed as pressman at the Rogers Printing Co. in Dixon, leaves tomorrow to accept a fine position with the Challenge Machinery Company, at Grand Haven, Mich., a concern which manufactures presses. SITUATION LOOKS GOOD SAYS MARCH

Lull on West Front Only Means Combat Divisions Being Formed

"ITALIAN BATTLE WON"

Premier Orlando Tells Italian Deputies of Austria's Defeat

By Associated Press Leased Wire
The fighting on the Piave line apparently decreasing as the Austrian offensive enters its second week. In the mountains there has been little activity for several days, but the Austrians are reported to be concentrating large bodies there, presumably for another attempt to push southward to the Venetian plain.

The Austrian losses have been very heavy, and an Italian newspaper estimates them at 120,000. Reports have been received in London to the effect that 12 German divisions will be sent to Italy to take the place of an equal number of Austrians who will be transported to France.

Behind the fighting front the Dual Monarchy is seething with discontent over the food situation. Dr. Von Seydler, the Austrian Premier, is said to be on his way to headquarters to again place his resignation in the hands of Emperor Charles.

The unrest in Vienna continues to spread throughout Austria and much anti-German feeling is manifest in Vienna and in Hungary. In the Austrian capital the police were called out to prevent an attack on the German embassy, the mob crying that Germany was starving Austria. Bread riots are spreading in the district of Vienna and the number of munition workers now on strike number 150,000.

On the front in France small raids are in progress.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, June 22.—Nine hundred thousand American soldiers have crossed the sea. Gen. March told newspaper correspondents in his weekly conference today. These figures include troops shipped from all parts of embarkation in America. The United States is today five months ahead of its program for placing an army in France, said Gen. March.

The figures on American troop shipments given out by Gen. March last week were fixed at more than 800,000, and the addition of 100,000 during the week shows the progress that is being made.

While the general battle situation looks good today, said Gen. March, the present lull on the west front means only that the German combat divisions are being reformed for another drive. In view of the whole situation, including Italy, said the chief of staff, the Central Powers are again held on all fronts.

"Battle Is Won"

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rome, June 22.—The battle situation remained unchanged and infantry engagements were not resumed on Friday, according to a statement made last night by Premier Orlando to the Italian parliament. "It is now permissible to say that the battle is won," the Premier told the deputies. Austria, he added, is now gathering all available men for attack in the sectors to the north.

Position Better

NEWSY LETTER CONCERNING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE RESIDENTS OF FRANKLIN GROVE

By J. C. Cook

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Wingert, and daughter, Miss Ada, and Mrs. Susan Kountz motored to Mt. Morris, Friday.

Miss Hazel Sunday visited recently with friends in Rochelle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ireland of De Kalb are spending a week's vacation visiting at the home of their mother, Mrs. Bertha Ireland.

Miss Edna Zarger, who has been engaged at the Rochelle hospital for the past few weeks, arrived home on the afternoon train, Tuesday.

Oscar Orner returned home from Iowa, Saturday.

Mrs. Capt. Dow of New York City arrived on the afternoon train, Tuesday, for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Black.

Bert Morgan transacted business in Ashton, Monday afternoon.

The mystery regarding the disappearance, recently, of the hitching post from its accustomed place in front of a town residence remains unsolved at the present writing. It has been found out, though, that at least one prominent citizen absolutely knows all the facts and circumstances in connection therewith. He declares that as he drives an automobile and is not dependent upon any horse and buggy the hitching post incident is of no concern to him whatever and refuses any information.

The following notice taken from the Hyannis Tribune, Nebraska, will be of interest to Franklin Grove readers:

The Nuptial Knot Nicely Tied

Last Friday, June 7, 1918, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the parlor of the Commercial hotel in Hyannis, Nebraska, Maude Olive McNeal of Winnebago, Ill., daughter of Mrs. A. B. Hosman, and Hewitt D. Minor of Franklin Grove, Ill., were united in marriage, Rev. Thomas D. Davis officiating in the presence of relatives and a few immediate friends. The bride, who is quite well and most favorably known here, was attired in a handsome gown of gray silk taffeta, while the groom wore the conventional black. Following the ceremony and hearty congratulations an elaborate wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Minor departed on the noon train, after being profusely showered with rice, for Montana, where they will visit with his relatives for a few days prior to making a tour of the Yellowstone National Park which opens on Saturday of this week.

Mrs. Grace Orner, whose birthday comes exactly in the middle of June, was the happy recipient of many kindly attentions and regards from relatives and friends, last Saturday evening, and a quiet celebration of the event demonstrated the best wishes of all. A delightful supper was served on the emerald green carpet under the cooling shadows of the big trees. The refreshments were dainty as well as substantial and bountiful. There may be some psychological reason why appetites become keener and tastes even more exquisite when a meal is served out in the open, especially in the evening hour, when birds send forth their sweetest melodies and the soft breezes are laden with the perfume of flowers, while over it all is the limitless expanse of sky, the dome of heaven. The gathering numbered about twenty-five persons; the youngest, being Miss Ruth George, a sweet, beautiful girl of tender years; the oldest, George Chester Withey, a fine dignified gentleman of sterner age. One just treading the flowery paths of happy childhood, the other has journeyed far out upon the highway, having borne the heat and burden of the day and still in possession of health and strength, is quietly and serenely resting in the enjoyment of a long and fruitful life. The occasion will ever remain a happy memory in the minds of Mrs. Orner and her friends.

Frank Kesselring, who has motored over different parts of the countryside, and recently returned from a trip down through Ottawa, says that he has never seen crops in better condition or a more favorable prospect for a rich harvest than at the present time. So far there has been abundant moisture, accompanied by about the right temperature which has resulted in a wonderful growth of everything. It is expected that haying time will commence much earlier than usual. The fruit prospect is not quite as promising. Strawberries are considered rather poor and very few growers have many perfect berries to market. And what is more delicious than a strawberry in June? and even if they are not in perfect form, "with all thy faults, we love them still," Mr. Keith who probably has the best berry patch in this locality and is experienced in raising berries, says he is at a loss to understand why there are so many deformed berries this season. During some former years he has produced berries that only thirteen of them made a quart. Now it requires a good many. Mr. Keith says he always puts the big ones on the top of the box and has no trouble in disposing of all he can furnish. In his own experience in buying berries from Mr. Keith he has usually found the big ones at the bottom. Let us earnestly hope that during this awful stress of war and enormous demand for food that there will be a rich harvest and that summer sun and cloud and sky and field may unite in producing a bountiful supply. Food must win the war.

The Dixon Telegraph, now in its 68th year. The oldest paper in Lee County.

Dr. F. M. Banker, who was taken suddenly ill Monday morning, is now reported to be gradually recovering. The neuralgia pains which were very severe at first are reported to be gradually subsiding, affording chance for rest and recuperation. The attending physicians, after a thorough examination of all symptoms and physical conditions, report favorably and under the best care and attention possible the Doctor will no doubt soon regain his former health and strength. The Doctor has been subject to a good many cares and duties for some time owing to the demand made upon his time to assist in wartime matters. He was active as one of the physicians on the examining board and prominent on numerous committees and organizations in nation, state and county, all of which required attention, aside from his professional duties.

The following letter is very much appreciated:

Rochelle, Ill., June 18, 1918.

Mr. J. C. Cook,

Franklin Grove, Ill.

Dear Sir: I wish to thank you for the copy of the Dixon paper (Telegraph) enclosed with your publication. I cannot see how you can "scrape up" so much, and so interesting local news.

Yours truly,

C. L. CLARK.

A fishing party composed of a number of the younger cosmopolitan members of the community were encamped Tuesday night upon the banks of the Rock river, where the waters dark and murky flow swiftly by in their journey towards the sea. Results from the expedition proved highly satisfactory, at least the party returned to town the next morning with a fine string of catfish, in all 33 lbs. We are under the impression that the boys had a pretty hard night of it, and taking into consideration the loss of sleep, fighting mosquitoes, the strenuous task of pulling out the fish and a few other hardships, the novelty and success of the enterprise more fully appreciated.

Send the Telegraph to your soldier boy in camp. It will cost you only 10 cents a week and it's as good as a letter from home.

We have received the following letter from Russell Kretzer, dated at Camp Joseph E. Johnston, Jacksonville, Fla., June 13, 1918:

I haven't time to write you much this evening, but will scribble a few items regarding our camp life that may be of some interest. Mother sent me your Keystone magazine and I sure was glad to get it. I have read it through three times at least. Since yesterday I have received all kinds of mail and believe me I feel like a different fellow now. I have been in the detention camp for twelve days now and vaccinated for different diseases. I expect to get transferred to the barracks next week and probably will be sent to France within thirty days. Three friends of mine were transferred to the barracks yesterday, were issued their helmets and weapons and ordered to pack their bags for France at once. I call that quick work. This camp is for quartermasters only, and believe me there is a big bunch of them. At the barracks there are all kinds of training schools for those wishing to learn trades. I believe that I can get by without going to school, so don't expect to be there long. Believe me, it is hot down here and the mosquitoes, say, they are so attentive and polite that they always leave their mark on a card. Well, Mr. Cook, it's getting quite dark, and as I failed to get a candle for tonight, I'll have to close. Am enclosing a little poem I clipped out of a Y. M. C. A. paper and it gives a good account of us from morning until night. Would appreciate a letter from you and don't fail to send me a copy of the Dixon Evening Telegraph which contains your News Letter from Franklin Grove.

Your friend,

PVT. RUSSELL M. KRETZER,

Receiving Camp Seven.

Joys of a Receiving Camp

Camp Johnston is a fine old place.

The finest that I know,

The sweat comes running down your face

And makes you pray for snow.

We get up in the morning

At shortly after four,

The day begins a-dawning

And we drill an hour or more.

We line up with our mess pans

And stand a little while

And then we get our ham and—

In truly army style.

After mess we get some detail—

Cutting wood or grubbing stumps.

Then we stand in line for mail

If there's none, we feel like Chumps.

At 12 o'clock we get some chow

Then fall in line once more

And then we work; the Top knows how

Till our muscles all are sore.

The hours after evening mess—

The hours of the day.

We kill some time then we confess

But in a pleasant way.

Some like to write their loved ones

Some like to sing perhaps,

While others curse the bloody Huns.

Till blowing of the taps.

You'll see 'tis not an easy life.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.

Quite hard, you say, perchance. But still we're training for the strife we'll have in Sunny France.

A French officer, Lieut. Felix Vincent, from Camp Grant, was the guest at the C. D. Hussey home over Sunday. Lieut. Vincent has been in the service nearly three years, the past seven months he has been in charge of the training of American officers at Camp Grant. Previous to that he was in the trenches fighting the Huns. He claims a record of having killed 14 Huns and the capture of 4.

Lewis Zoeller says it keeps him busy keeping up with the weather man. Saturday morning he had a good fire going to make it comfortable for his guests. The next day, Sunday, he needed about fourteen fans, the next morning he had a fire going again. He thinks there is no other country that can produce more varieties of weather within twenty-four hours than our own home climate.

The thrilling drama, "The Cost of Hatred," as played at the Keystone, Saturday evening, was intensely interesting from start to finish; from the deep tragedy which marked the beginning until the close, when two happy lovers rode out across a western trail, leaving behind them a life of suffering, trial and danger, into a great new day of hope and peace. Theodore Roberts is a wonderful actor and can convert more big cigars into volcanoes of smoke in such a manner which adds to the dramatic effect which no other artist can imitate. Kathryn Williams is always good and always a favorite.

Word recently received from John Conner by his mother, Mrs. George Bates of Waterloo, Iowa, states that he is being vaccinated for different diseases, that he likes the training although it is a hard hand. He is improving all spare time in the study of military manual with the determination to pass the examination and get higher up. Arthur Watson is in the fourth cot from him and is the only Franklin Grove boy in his company.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hunt and family were entertained over Sunday at the Frank Millhouse home in the country.

A. Long Business Center

Al. Merridith has the distinction of being the oldest merchant in Franklin Grove, who has been in continuous business for over forty years.

He occupies the same building and location where in February, 1878, he and his good wife engaged in their first business venture. Forty years is considerable more than the average lifetime and many times the average period of business existence.

It is estimated that only two persons out of every one hundred who engage in business ever reach the goal of success. Some survive for only a brief time. Others linger or hang on for a time, but eventually are swept far out upon boundless sea oblivion and their ruined hopes and ambitions are forever buried beneath the waves of failure and disaster.

Some rise and fall with the tide. Those who succeed in riding securely the commercial waves either retire, or changing conditions bring them into other fields of activities. And so, it is not only unusual, but remarkable, to find a business which has been established in the same location for so many years. Mr. Merridith recalls many names of those who were engaged in business when he came here. H. I. Lincoln, was a pioneer merchant and conducting a general store in the Lincoln building; Peter Rooney, an old Conrad Durkes, dry goods; Hussey & Dysart, lumber; R. A. Canterbury, hardware; John Sitz, groceries; John Bratton, furniture; George Black, restaurant and groceries; Clark Robinson, druggist; George Taylor, grain; Frost & Hanger, lumber; Carl Lagerquest, boots and shoes; William Crawford, undertaker; Joe Garfield and Martin Gaver, harness; Ferdinand Trottnow, cabinetmaker; Ludwig Trottnow, shoe shop; Henry Black, jewelry and book store; J. C. Seerist, Hotel Franklin; Bishop Hughes, stone hotel; Sol. Sunday, blacksmith; Jarred Forbes, ladies' furnishings; John Stewart and William Welch, barbers; A. R. Whitney, vinegar works and nursery; O. W. Trostle, blacksmith and farm machinery; Geo. Weigle, washing machine factory; Israel Zugg, meat market; Mrs. Faunce, photographer; Dave Price, general store; Ezra Wood, feed store; George Stanbaugh, livery; Thomas Scott, principal of schools; Wm. Matthes, Chas. Krah and John Coyle were also in business. The physicians at that time were George W. Hewitt, veteran of the Civil War; S. A. Griswold, and

Geo. Spigler. At that time Mr. Merridith came here and for some years after Franklin Grove was in zenith of its commercial prosperity. Camp meeting was then a great event and attracted people for miles around. The camp grounds and the town itself was crowded with people, some of whom could not find accommodations.

Every available spot to hitch a horse was in demand and for blocks the streets were lined with country rigs. Mr. Merridith was one of the live wires and his place a popular resort. He was always foremost in any public enterprise and a liberal giver. He was always counted upon as one who would plank down his full proportion towards any object that would be of help to the town.

In those days there was far greater harmony among the business men, less of little petty jealousies and fewer knockers than there are today, and all went merry as a marriage bell in June. While everybody carried a lantern, there were no telephones, no electric lights, no street lights of any kind, no typewriters, no adding or accounting machines, no water system, no cement walks, no furnace or steam heating plants, no horseless carriages, no gasoline engines, no tractors, no electric stoves, or fireless cookers; at the same time the commercial spirit was alive and active and prosperity rode the wave. During the forty years of their residence here Mr. and Mrs. Merridith have witnessed many changes in the business and social conditions of the community. Of the number who were in business in 1878 but few are left. Some have sought locations elsewhere, others have passed the boundary line of time over which no one ever returns. Within the past several years Mr. and Mrs. Merridith have sought relief from business cares and their environments in travel and recreation and have made several trips into the far west where they have spent many of the winter months. With a long established trade and business reputation, Mr. Merridith, with his lifelong companion, enjoys a profitable patronage and has the esteem of many friends and neighbors.

NEW FASHIONS THAT ARE SPONSORED BY SUMMER

Collarless Effects Are Very Popular

New York, June 22.—There are many little developments of the summer fashions that are absolutely fascinating. What could be more adorable than the wide sun hats made of straw and taffeta interwoven, with perhaps a knitting bag to match? Then, too, the organdie hats with their high crowns of taffeta or satin and wee silken roses in pastel shades are absolutely bewitching worn with the fluffy frock of organdie or voile. One hat if beige colored organdie had a knife pleated ruffle on the edge of the brim, and a narrow grosgrain though a girdle of soft ribbon could be used if desired. The skirt is pleated at the high waistline, and is draped on the side. Any of the soft summer materials could be used for developing this design. Voile is particularly good, and soft silk, too, makes up charmingly.

Combination of Materials
This is no new style feature, and yet it is one of the most effective of the summer modes. Some of the combinations strike one as a trifle queer at first, but they are really interesting, and as a rule there is a very good reason behind the seeming inconsistency. For instance, there are many combinations of Georgette crepe and linen. Georgette crepe washes perfectly and keeps its dainty appearance far longer than either voile or organdie, the two most natural materials to combine with linen. Then, too, silk and satin are often used to trim the pique or other cotton frock. Printed chiffons have pique or organdie collars and vests, and the organdie sash with theingham silk is absolutely bewitching. There are stunning separate sports skirts, too, with deep pockets of ribbon of navy blue around the crown, ending in a saucy flyaway bow. Turbans with flat silken flowers veiled in maline make splendid street hats, and here and there one sees a hat made entirely of velvet or ribbon to remind us that cool days come after hot ones!

White shoes, too, are playing their parts. There are the low heeled sports shoes with insets of tan or brown or blue, to match the costume. There are high heeled slippers of kid, buckskin or canvas suitable for afternoon and evening wear. And among the new comers are the linen shoes, some very high—as many as fourteen buttons! Of course, white stockings are the most appropriate for white footwear, and they can be of silk, lisle, cotton and even wool for sport wear.

The Collarless Dress
There are so many of them, these collarless styles. They have been a great feature of the French modes, and really the simplicity of effect gained by the "straight across" neck is really charming. With the extremely simple waist, the skirt that is draped seems the most natural. The illustration shows one of these fascinating costumes. The buttons on the shoulder add a pleasing touch. This is certainly an example of the smartness of the dress without trimmings, for not even a sash is worn.

The Charm of One-Sided Drapery satin, and a wide satin belt on the cotton skirt. There seems to be no end to the various and interesting combinations which one can make.

Graceful and Becoming
There is something particularly graceful about the dress with the draped skirt, as I said before, and the model illustrated here has many interesting features. The draped collar repeats the effect of the skirt. There is just the right amount of fullness in the waist, for the back comes forward on the shoulder, forming a yoke which holds the soft pleats. The sleeves are very novel, half loose, half tight, and the skirt has the one-sided drapery that is so modish this season. The line of the dress, too, is a becoming one, and altogether the whole effect is pleasing.

NEVER in history has the world seen such a demonstration of practical patriotism as it will witness on June 28th, National War Savings Stamp Day. On that day millions of Americans will gather, in tens of thousands of school houses all over the country to pledge WAR STAMP MONTH. not only their loyalty, but an effective proof of that loyalty by signing pledges to purchase War Savings Stamps regularly during the remainder of the year. Illinois will play a fitting part in this great patriotic demonstration. From Waukegan to Cairo, and from the Indiana line to the Mississippi, school meetings will be held, and Martin A. Ryerson, director of War Savings for the state, feels confident that when the results are in Illinois will be found to have done its part. In every county the county chairmen and their assistants, the township chairmen, are making big preparations for this day. They are arranging the local meetings, and, in the last analysis, it is upon them that the success of the great June drive in Illinois depends.

On the people of the state, however, devolves a duty to assist the War Savings workers in every manner possible. The public should not wait to be called upon and urged to purchase these government securities. If a man or a woman wants food or clothing, or any of the necessities of life, he or she goes to the places where these things are sold and makes the purchase. The people do not wait for agents to come around and tell them they need new clothes.

Neither should they wait for solicitors to call on them and impress them with the vital needs of the Government in these days of world crisis. They know that this nation is at death grips with the most powerful autocratic war machine the world has ever known. They know the penalty that will have to be paid if we meet defeat. They know that wars cannot be prosecuted without money, and they know that money must come from the people. They know, likewise, that the Government is not asking them to GIVE their money. It is merely asking them to save it and invest it in War Savings Stamps. The more they save and invest the richer they will be when victory is won. If victory is not won property and life itself will be worthless.

Therefore, it is up to the people themselves to ACT. By comparison to the huge sums that must be raised in the future the $2,000,000,000 which the Government is raising by the sale of War Savings Stamps is small. It means only $20 for each man, woman and child in the country.

As residents of a wealthy and patriotic state let's clean up this little obligation right now. Make June the "big money" month of the War Savings Campaign. Every man who can should go to the post office, bank or other agency right now and buy four of the $5 War Savings Stamps—they cost $4.17 each in June—for every member of his family, four for some poor person who cannot, and four to make up the quota of some pro-German or careless slacker who will not invest.

Every person who can purchase, in addition, ten, twenty, 100 or up to 200 of the stamps, which is the largest amount any individual is allowed to hold, should do so in June. For families of wealth the father, the mother, and each of the children may hold 200 of the $5 War Savings Stamps.

Let's all go the limit right now on these convenient securities. The impression has gone abroad, because of the slowness with which Illinois took hold of the War Savings Campaign, that the state is not doing its duty. Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and other states are far ahead of us.

Let's all get behind this War Savings drive right now, clean it up and get it out of the way, and be ready for the next Liberty Loan when it is issued. A little thing like $20 per capita ought to be a matter of one day, not a whole year, to a state like Illinois.

TWENTY thousand farm hands are wanted for immediate service in the grain fields of Illinois, according to the survey made by the Farm Labor Administration of the State Council of Defense. They are needed to save the wheat crop, which is already ripening, to HELP THE FARMERS! take care of the hay and oats harvests, which are coming on, and to cultivate the great corn crop, which has been planted and needs immediate attention.

The most pressing demand right now is for men to harvest the wheat crop. The need is made urgent by the fact that 8,000 farm hands have been called to the army within the past two weeks, and it is expected that as many more will be called in the next two weeks. To take 16,000 men out of farm service right at harvest time leaves a tremendous hole. It will have to be plugged or there will be a tremendous loss of wheat already grown.

The Illinois wheat crop this year promises to be the largest the state has ever produced—if it is saved—according to the Farm Labor Administration's survey. Meadows and pastures were plowed up last fall, waste land was redeemed and the acreage was increased in every way possible. In addition to increased acreage, the state has been blessed with one of the most favorable crop seasons of a generation, so a new wheat record is in sight—if the hands can be found to harvest it.

Robert H. Patton of Springfield made announcement at the dry amendment rally in Springfield this week that the prohibition party will not put legislative candidates in the field to oppose any dry candidates that may be named by the other parties. It has been the practice of the Anti-Saloon League to endorse dry candidates put up by either of the other big parties instead of nominating candidates, but the old prohibition party has not heretofore had such a rule. This course now announced should mean a uniting of all the dry forces to support legislative candidates who will vote for ratification by Illinois of the dry amendment. This should make dry candidates a little more attractive to both the democrats and republicans.

German air raids are anticipated in New York. They have been predicted, and it is probable that they will come. Siren horns that can be heard several miles are being set up in several sections of the city, to warn the people when the raids come. The war is NOT three thousand miles off.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

CIVIC INTEREST

Editor THE TELEGRAPH: Anent the review of the court proceedings in the case of the violations of the liquor laws. One of the attorneys took it upon himself in his plea to the court, or for the purpose of advertising, to inform the people as to what their duties are and as to what, in his opinion, constitutes good behavior and useful citizenship. The women of Dixon labored as fervently to secure the benefits of local option as did the men. They are interested and are affected fully as much as are the men, even as much as are the attorneys (except probably in fees to be collected) in the enforcement of the law. Such bombast for advertising purposes, was very much out of place. Contempt of court is punishable, but contempt for the pettifoggery ways employed by some attorneys under their license to practice law is unmeasurable and I believe by the public generally granted.

MARK D. SMITH.

Shall We Change Our Form of Government?

Inasmuch as petitions are in circulation to change our form of municipal government, and because many questions have been asked with regard to this proposed change, it might be well to note the fact that under the old form of government, the City was continually borrowing money, at times the amount reaching as high as $16,000.00. The City now has money in the bank, despite the fact that the Commission Form system started with a depleted treasury. Under the old form, Dixon had about one mile of brick pavement; we now have about eight miles of brick and concrete paving, also a large amount of good, oiled macadam road and many miles of new sewers. The City's share of Local Improvements amounted approximately to $170,000.00, of which $100,000.00 has been retired without one additional cent of taxes to the public. The City of Dixon has paid from 25 per cent to 33 1-3 per cent as the Public's share of the entire cost of all local improvements, constructed during the Commission Form of Government, while other cities of Northern Illinois, as a rule, have not paid to exceed 10 to 20 per cent. The City Hall Bond debt has also been reduced from $24,000.00 to $16,000.00 under the Commission Form. With the present form, all idle moneys of the City are kept at interest, and the amount of revenue so received very nearly pays the salaries of the Commissioners.

The street lighting system has been more equalized, so that there is now no street intersection within the City limits, that does not have its street light.

Under the Commission Form of Government, the Superintendent of the Cemetery has been enabled to do more work in his department, receives more funds, and is paid a higher salary, than was possible under the old form of government.

The City now publishes in printed pamphlet form an itemized statement of the City's business, which includes all of its receipts and disbursements, shows the financial condition of the various departments of the several commissioners, and gives a statement if the treasurer, showing the balances on hand in the various funds, and the balance on hand in the bank. On June 1st, this balance in the bank to the credit of the City of Dixon was $68,047.30. It is suggested that any citizen, at taxpayer, or interested person call at the City Clerk's office and not only examine the report of June 1, 1918, but also all monthly reports since the City adopted the Commission Form of Government.

A return to the Old Form would necessitate the holding of an election annually, whereas under the present form an election is held every four years. Therefore, it goes without argument that it will cost the City four times as much to hold four elections as it will to hold one, and this additional expense must be met and paid for by the tax payers of the City. The next municipal election will be held in April, 1919, at which time this question can be disposed of without additional expense. These are patriotic times, when every citizen should stand by his government, whether it be National, State or Municipal. Why then, at such an inopportune time as this, ask that the taxpayers be put to the expense of holding this special election?

If you sign a petition it means you favor putting the city of which you are a part, to the expense of a special election, to decide the issue.

'GERMAN-MADE' ARENA TO HELP CAMP GRANT CELEBRATE 4TH

Charles G. Williams, former business manager of the Cubs, and Lieut. J. E. Eddy, athletic officer at the Rockford camp, are shown planning the big arena for Independence Day. Below is a diagram of the seating arrangement. Reproduced by courtesy of Chicago Evening American.

When that portion of Illinois above Peoria and all of Wisconsin celebrate July 4 with the boys of the 86th division at Camp Grant, they will dedicate a boxing arena seating 10,000, the lumber for which has been hauled by German war prisoners.

More than 100 of the Germans, taken in full naval uniform, are prisoners under Maj. Gen. Charles H. Martin, and while they are fed and housed as comfortably as any American soldier in the camp, they are kept busy enough to forget most of their troubles.

Diagrams of the boxing arena were brought to Chicago, to-day by Lieut. J. E. Eddy, division athletic officer. After Charles G. Williams, former business manager of the Cubs laid out the seat plan, it was turned over to the printer. It is expected that the tickets will be ready for sale by the

PLAN ARMY OF ALL AMERICAS TO WHIP GERMANS IN EUROPE

Propose to Train and Equip
South American Soldiers in United States

LIMITLESS MAN POWER

Many South American Nations at War With Kaiser Want to Help

Washington, D. C., June 21—Mobilization of the entire western hemisphere against the Hun, with the soldiers of all American nations fighting in Europe, is a possible result of action of extraordinary significance taken by the senate committee on military affairs today at the instance of President Wilson.

The committee adopted a war department amendment to the army appropriation bill authorizing the president to train, transport and maintain the forces of any nation at war with a nation with which the United States is at war. This is done with the consent of each nation in question.

This action was asked by the administration for the purpose of making it possible for the six Latin-American republics which already have declared war on Germany and for such other American republics as may declare war on Germany to contribute their man power to the common cause against the enemy.

To Train Armies in U. S.
American republics financially unable to raise, equip and transport armies to Europe thus will be able to send their soldiers to the United States, where they will be trained, armed and clothed and eventually sent to the battle front, all at American expense.

Informal negotiations have been in progress for some time between the allies and the Latin American belligerents concerning the organization of a great pan-American army to reinforce the armies already fighting Germany. Some, if not all, of the six Latin American belligerents have signified their desire to aid the cause to the full extent of their man power as soon as it could be made financially and physically possible.

President Wilson's offer to undertake the project is believed to have solved the problem.

The president embraces the opportunity all the more readily because of his belief that nothing would destroy distrust more quickly and knit together the American republics in a new bond of friendship than would the amalgamation of all the American forces warring on Germany. The plan is in line with the president's enunciation of a new pan-American doctrine which would make all American nations the joint defenders of the Monroe doctrine.

The six Latin American republics which have declared war on Germany and the strength of the standing army of each follows:

Brazil	40,000
Guatemala	86,000
Costa Rica	40,000
Cuba	11,000
Nicaragua	2,000
Panama	1,000

Nearly all of these countries have additional militia forces, as well as vast reservoirs of man power which can be drawn upon either by calls for volunteers or conscription. It is understood that the troops of Panama will constitute the first contingent to arrive for training in the United States.

Seven Others May Act.
There are seven more Latin American countries which have severed relations with Germany. They are Bolivia, Ecuador, Haiti, Honduras, Uruguay, Peru and the Dominican republic. Peru recently committed an

PRISONERS ASK CHANCE TO SERVE THE NATION

Chester Penitentiary Inmates Petition State for an Opportunity

ARE VERY PATRIOTIC

By Associated Press Licensed Wire
Springfield, Ill., June 22 — Nine hundred of the 1142 prisoners at the Chester penitentiary have offered themselves for the army or for other service, it was learned today when the contents of a petition addressed to John Whitman, superintendent of prisons, and bearing the 900 signatures was made public.

The preamble of the petition follows:

"Feeling that we, although at present without citizenship rights, are a part of the man power of this great nation, conservation of which is so needful at this time, and realizing our present utter inability to answer duty's call, we the undersigned prisoners of the Southern Illinois penitentiary, in the true spirit of patriotism, do hereby petition that a way be found or created whereby we may offer ourselves, our lives, our all, to the services of our country, however, whenever or wherever such may be desired or essential and we pledge ourselves to faithfully perform our duty in every respect to the best of our ability with but one end in view, one purpose, the perpetuation of democracy and that the American creed may be the creed of the world."

An accompanying letter directed Warden James A. White to forward the petition to Mr. Whitman, the man "best fitted to lead us out of the wilderness."

"The document strikes me as being quite remarkable and furnishes a strong argument for the utilization of prisoners in the army," declared Charles H. Thorne, director of the department of public welfare. He said prisoners at all state institutions were exhibiting healthy signs of patriotism, and were anxious to observe all the food restrictions decreed by the food administration.

act of war against Germany by seizing German ships in her harbors and is expected soon to join the ranks of the allies.

Indications are not lacking that other South and Central American republics will break with Germany. Argentina is said to be verging toward war despite the pro-German attitude of the present government. Ambassador Naon of Argentina is due to reach Washington within the next fortnight with information of his nation's intentions. He has been appointed high commissioner of Argentine interests in the U. S., a move regarded in some quarters as exceeding significant of impending developments.

Even Mexico May Join.
If there should be a general flocking of the Spanish republics to the standards of the allies under President Wilson's arrangement for financing and managing the undertaking, it is not impossible that Mexico may be found among those present.

The big "IF" in LIFE:

"If we only had a 'HOOVER!'"

"Then we wouldn't have to tear up the house, move heavy furniture and drag those heavy carpets and rugs outside to clean them twice a year. We could Beat them—thoroughly Sweep them and Freshen them as they lie on the floors. We could have our rugs and carpets clean all year round. What a lot less work it'd be—what a healthier home we'd have—if we only had a Hoover! Let's GET one!"

Supplies Its Own Muscle

The Hoover actually BEATS OUT grit—sweeps up stubbornest litter—and draws off all dirt and dust without a sneeze because it raises no dust to clog your nostrils. All you do is guide it for it rolls so lightly that a child can push it. Takes no strength because the motor supplies the muscle by revolving the brush over 1,000 times a minute which removes every vestige of dirt. No other cleaner Beats or Thoroughly Sweeps. This Hoover feature is PATENTED.

A BUSINESS NECESSITY —THE TELEPHONE

The business man knows that without the telephone he would have to conduct his business as his grandfather did—much correspondence by mail and special messenger and many personal calls. Making calls takes time—the telephone saves time. When you write a letter you must wait for the answer—the telephone brings back an instantaneous reply.

A man in Chicago conducts his entire business over the telephone. An automobile dealer recently placed an order for $60,000 worth of cars over the telephone. Transact YOUR business over the telephone. It is the easiest and most satisfactory way, as demonstrated by actual results.

KAISER IS NOW STATE TAILOR

Commandeers All German Shops and Sets the Styles and Prices.

CUSTOMER MUST PAY CASH

Men's Suits Have Been Standardized, Running in Six Series, Simplifying the Transaction—Women's Clothes Will Come Next.

Amsterdam.—Emperor William is the greatest merchant tailor in the world, according to German newspapers which have arrived here. He has taken over practically the whole tailoring business of Germany, for men as well as for women. The emperor is running his new tailoring business under the name of Reichsbekleidungsstelle, which means the Empire's Clothing Place.

German newspapers announce the kaiser's clothing shops are open for business in all parts of the fatherland. Thus the kaiser controls the whole clothing industry of the nation. He is in a position to dictate the style, the shade of goods to be used and the length of the skirts for women. At present the kaiser seems to favor dark goods for men's suits, for the newspapers say the goods used for the kaiser's coats are exclusively of a dark shade.

Formerly it used to be the exclusive privilege of the military man to wear the kaiser's coat, but now everybody practically not only will be privileged, but even compelled, to wear the kaiser's coat. And the women will not only wear kaiser coats but also kaiser skirts. It may be assumed the kaiser is in favor of short and narrow skirts for women, in order to save material.

While the kaiser is in charge of the wholesale department of the German clothing industry, so to speak, the local shops in the different cities, towns and villages are to be in charge of the municipal authorities. However, the prices are fixed in Berlin by the kaiser.

One cannot buy a hand-me-down early on Saturday morning any cheaper than at any other time. Nor will one have a chance to buy one leg of a pair of trousers this week and the other leg next week. Bargaining is verboten, if the kaiser has his way. No more clearing sales, no more fire sales, no more bankrupt sales, no more misfit sales!

The German clothing industry has been Prussianized indeed, pressed with a hot iron into a methodical shape or a shapeless method. Men's suits have been standardized, running in six series, from the letter A to F. All male Germans will soon know to which series they belong. They won't have to have their measurements taken. All they will have to do is go to the kaiser's shop and say: "Hand me down an A suit!"

The kaiser's salesman will know exactly what the customer wants, and any argument as to whether it fits well around the neck will be superfluous. And the customer must pay cash down for his suit. The kaiser needs the money. No more suits on tick, is the standing rule.

Credit is Abolished.

The Germans no longer can have a suit made to order, forget to pay the bill and fail to recognize the tailor when they happen to pass him in the street. Nor can they any longer buy a suit on tick and hook it with the uncle on the same day, to squander the ill-gotten gain in a beer garden.

Of course, the kaiser has given his new clothing a high sounding name. He calls the suits reichsanzeuge, meaning empire or state suits. The reichsanzeug for men costs from 70 to 100 marks. This is about the same price that prevailed before the war for custom made clothing.

Whether the women of Germany will submit to the styles dictated by the kaiser remains to be seen. Newspapers announcing the kaiser's new departure state the measure is first being applied to mere man, considered more docile. So if a revolution should break out in Germany these days it may be the German women rebelled against the kaiser's styles.

Pittsburgh Man Comes Back Home From Cuba to Get Into the Navy.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—J. Leo Kenan of No. 3424 Webster avenue has enlisted in the Naval Reserve as a yeoman after traveling 2,000 miles to do it.

He was in Havana, Cuba, when the first selectives registered. Being outside the territorial United States, he was not compelled to register, but he did, by mail, after an end of trouble. When he got his number he saw he was away down on the list.

He came home and succeeded in getting Local Board No. 4 to give a waiver which permitted him to join the navy. He will leave soon for an eastern naval training station.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, lustrous and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, marking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

The Liberty loan publicity bureau, Chicago district, has issued a statement showing the banking resources of Illinois, county by county, covering fifty-seven counties outside of Cook County, and the per cent of the state total.
This is the first time the 13th congressional district has been as follows:

Lee	7,811,217	1.289
Ogle	7,314,414	1.207
Stephenson	11,909,304	1.966
Whiteside	11,082,901	1.829
Total for 57 counties	$605,878,889	100%

This data was obtained through a questionnaire issued to the financial institutions of this division of the district requesting a report of conditions at the close of December 31, 1917.

SECTION CREW NEAR INJURY

Members of the Northwestern section crew had a narrow escape from serious injury shortly after 7 o'clock this morning when an eastbound freight train crashed into their motor car east of the depot. The men barely jumped from the truck in time to avoid injury.

PURCHASED COTTAGE

Attorney R. H. Scott has purchased the J. H. Anderson cottage on East Morgan street and will move his family there in the near future.

estimates the death list at 67. His wife was among the injured.

Deputy Coroner Green, who removed 21 bodies from the debris, believes that no others remain there. Crazy members of the show company were found wandering in the woods. The screams of the tortured victims mingled with the moans of the dying as the survivors sought to literally tear them from the overturned and blazing coaches.

Water from nearby pools, brought in buckets, was thrown on the burning wreckage without effect.

The Hagenback-Wallace shows were billed to play in Hammond today. The first section, carrying the canvassmen, animals, side shows and concessions, had arrived safely in Hammond, and was being followed by the section which was wrecked.

The second train was halted by a block at a crossing. A flagman was on duty there, it is reported. General Passenger Agent Landman of the Michigan Central said that his only explanation of the wreck was that the engineer of the troop train was dead at the throttle. Deputy Coroner Green said that the engineer and fireman of the troop train escaped, but that he would not divulge their story of how the wreck occurred until the inquest, the date of which has not been set.

Manager Gollman said that among the victims were the Rooney family, bareback riders; the Meyers family, animal trainers; the Cottrell family, bareback riders; Art Darick, strong man, who is said to have died on the relief train; the Donovan family, animal trainers; Mrs. Jennie Codd, Bloomington, Ill., said to have died on the relief train; Joseph Coyle, clown, and Mrs. Coyle and two children, who are said to have died after reaching a hospital.

Morrison Boy There? Sterling, June 22.—A boy named Landers is said to have been a member of the Hagenback-Wallace show troop.

ARCH-BISHOP OF DUBUQUE DEAD

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Dubuque, Ia., June 22.—Most Reverend John Joseph Keane, former rector of the Catholic University of America, retired arch-bishop of Dubuque, and a founder of the Catholic University at Washington, D. C., died here at 4:30 this morning, at the age of 79.

Archbishop John Joseph Keane, educator, orator and a leader in the temperance movement, was born in Ballyshannon, Ireland, in 1839, and came to America when he was seven years old, receiving his early education at St. Charles College, Baltimore. Later he studied philosophy and theology in St. Mary's Seminary, where he was ordained to the priesthood in 1866 and named assistant at St. Patrick's church, at Washington, D. C.

He remained at this post for twelve years and then became bishop of Richmond, Va., later being selected to promote the plan for a Catholic University at Washington. The institution was established in 1889 and he held the office of president until 1896 when he was called to Rome by Pope Leo XIII. He remained abroad three years and became famous as an orator and lecturer, gaining especial prestige throughout Europe with a series of lectures in the French language. His oration on Daniel O'Connell at Rome on the occasion of the great Liberator's centenary was considered a masterpiece.

At the urgent request of the trustees of the Catholic University at Washington, Bishop Keane returned to America, in 1899, to develop the college endowment. A short time later he was named archbishop of Dubuque, Iowa, to succeed Archbishop Henry, and his work in the midwestern diocese soon gained for him the deepest respect. He was largely instrumental in the growth of the Total Abstinence League. Ill health forced him to resign as archbishop of Dubuque in 1911 and he was succeeded by Archbishop James J. Keane of Cheyenne, Wyo.

While in Washington, Archbishop Keane founded Carroll Institute, a society for young men, and the Tabernacle Society, an organization devoted to aiding poor churches of the country.
